JET FIGHTERS MEET

All-Jet Dog-Fights Occur As Superforts Attack Yalu Bridges

By Lee Ferrero

(U. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, Mar. 30.—(INS)—Forward units of a massed quarter-million Chinese Red army unleashed a counter-attack against American troops north of Seoul late today and hurled mortar barrages on Allied lines along Korea's central front.

The enemy ground attacks coincided with the Korean war's most aggressive display of Communist air power as 38 Russian-type MIG-15 jet planes tangled with almost as many American jet fighters. Two all-jet dogfights broke out over northeast Korea's Chinnui area Friday as 28 B-29 Superforts attacked Yalu river bridges in what was officially termed "the most concentrated air bombardment of this bridge system." At least one MIG was downed and two others damaged.

A Friday night dispatch by International News Service war correspondent Don A. Schanche from the western front said Chinese forces of "unknown strength" counter-attacked north of Yijongju late in the afternoon.

The Chinese opened their counter-attack, Schanche said, "after stubbornly resisting" American and

THE BRISTOL COURIER

Reading Problems Are Discussed by Duffey

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 30.—The first session of the secondary division, Bucks County Study Council, was held here Tuesday. Thirty representatives and superintendents, of 14 Bucks County high school districts, heard Robert Duffey, supervisor from the reading analysis division of the reading clinic of Temple University. In quoting Mr. Duffey, "Although the most prevalent complaint of parents has been that reading is not taught as well as it was in former years, it is the opinion of experts that it was never better taught than it is today."

"You've all heard this many times," he said, "and that's probably why you've chosen 'The Implication of reading problems in secondary schools,' as the initial problem to be faced by your group. 'The main reasons for the high incidence of reading difficulties,' he went on to explain, 'has been first the enrichment of the school program, which has brought on the hazards of improper apportionment of time. There are greater demands on both students and teacher, intellectually and otherwise; and particularly, there has been a change in the make-up of population, many who three generations ago would have been dropped. 'Parents declare that children are not taught phonetics,' he added, 'but they are!'"

SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE OPEN

The Social Security Office in the Trenton Post Office Building will be open tomorrow. Ruben R. Blane, manager, announced today.

The reason, Blane says, is to take last-minute applications of persons who could qualify for old age and survivors insurance benefits as of last September under the new law. As back payments can be made for only six months, these persons will lose their benefit checks for one month if their applications are filed after Saturday. The Social Security Office in Trenton is receiving many such applications daily but Blane believes a number who are eligible for benefits as of last September are either unaware of their new rights or have been unable for some reason to visit the office.

INTERNATIONAL FACTS OF LIFE DISCUSSED

Exchangeites Hear J. S. Hollister, Who Did Relief Work in Germany

TRAVEL EXPERIENCES

"International Facts of Life" was the subject chosen by John S. Hollister, director of information for the Institute of International Education, New York, N. Y., when he addressed a meeting of the Bristol Exchange Club members in the Elks Home, last evening.

Mr. Hollister, a graduate of Harvard College, a former newspaperman, and a teacher at George School, Newtown, was in charge of a part of the program for relief in Germany immediately after World War II, under auspices of the American Friends Society. He has also travelled in 45 different countries, and discussed his experiences in such a way as to compare them with his well-chosen subject, "International Facts of Life."

Said Mr. Hollister, "Propaganda has a most important place in both

"Hungers of Life" Is Subject of Clergyman

"There is only one thing that humans should hunger for, and that is for down-to-earth goodness—the hunger for character that will inspire others... the hunger for services to our fellow men," the Rev. George E. Boswell told Rotarians yesterday afternoon at the Elks' Home when he spoke on the subject, "The Hungers of Life." Pointing out that all life seems to center around certain hungers, Rev. Boswell, rector of St. James' church, said these include such superfluous desires as the hunger for wealth, power, applause, and the hunger to be amused.

The club approved the report of the nominating committee for the fiscal year beginning July 1st. The nominees included: President, Harold N. Crocker; first vice-president, Fred H. Hermann; second vice-president, Daumant Kusma; secretary, the Rev. Paul Gleichman; treasurer, John Black; and sergeant-at-arms, Marion Whipples.

Guests were present for the meeting yesterday from Bensalem, with president Raymond Sobatzki in charge.

BRISTOL TURNS IN GOOD RECORD FOR SAFETY IN '50

Traffic Accidents Here Resulted in One Death Last Year

PERCENTAGE IS LOW

Comparisons Made Upon Basis of Cars Used is Also Favorable

(Special to the Courier)

NEW YORK, Mar. 30.—Bristol turned in a better traffic safety record for 1950 than did most communities in the country. This is shown in the report of the National Safety Council, based on its annual survey of auto accidents, covering 409 cities.

The traffic accidents in Bristol during the year, which resulted in one death, represent a rate of 7.9 fatalities per 100,000 population. This rate compares favorably with the national returns of 23.2 killed per 100,000 and with the returns from the other cities of its size group, 10,000 to 25,000, of 8.2 killed per 100,000 population. For the State of Pennsylvania as a whole the rate was 14.3.

CLAIMS HE STOLE WHISKEY TO MARK HIS WIFE'S RETURN

Thomas Landman Charged With Pushing Bottles Under Fence

NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

Held Without Bail for Court On Charge of Larceny of Whiskey

Plans for a party celebrating the home-coming of his wife and new baby were changed for Thomas Landman, 21, of Pine street, when Landman found himself charged with larceny of whiskey from the local plant where he is employed.

Landman was given a hearing yesterday in the office of Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol, here, and held without bail for court. He was then taken to the Bucks County prison at Doylestown to await trial.

The young men were seen by a guard at the plant of Hunter-Wilson Distilling Co., Inc., on Tuesday, allegedly pushing some bottles of whiskey under the fence. The guard, Walter Harbison, continued to keep his eye on Landman, and is said to have stated that Landman then proceeded to leave the grounds. As Landman allegedly hesitated near the six whiskey bottles (approximately 2½ quarts), the guard nabbed him, and Landman was turned over to Bristol police department.

The Alcohol Control Board is also interested in the case, as Landman is charged with having in his possession untaxed liquor. Landman's excuse to the police was that his wife and baby were arriving home that day from Abington Hospital, and he planned a celebration to mark the home-coming.

Terchon Cadet Corps To Solicit for Funds

Chester W. Terchon Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, will conduct a door-to-door canvas Saturday to raise funds for additional equipment needed to compete in contests this summer.

The corps was reorganized in 1949 and completed at the state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Harrisburg last year, walking off with a tie for first honors.

This past winter the color squad of the corps competed in two color squad competitions. This was the first time the color squad was ever in competition. The squad finished sixth in the first competition out of 12 corps competing, and finished fourth in their second competition out of ten corps competing.

Now with two years of training the corps feels it is ready to compete against all classes of junior drum and bugle corps and therefore is making this drive for additional equipment, so as to compete on even basis with other corps, in the state and adjoining states.

The corps goal is set at $5,000 and residents of Bristol are asked to be generous in their contribution.

The corps is taught music by Charles Brodie, while members of the Terchon Post is teaching them drilling. The corps is composed of boys and girls in age groups of twelve to sixteen.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kierman (Distributed by International News Service)

Everyone seems to feel that Kefauver and Fulbright will be men to watch in '52 because they've told us whom to watch in '51.

But the Government has come up with the standard formula for curbing crime... put a bigger tax bite on the criminals.

The way it works out now, the reward of good citizenship and the penalty of crime are about the same... a bigger tax bite.

Anyhow, if Estes wants to run, there will be no objection from the headline writers... his name takes five letters, just like Harry.

And if Estes hasn't got a campaign song, I would suggest "Estesially For You." The slogan, of course, will be "Vote for Kefauver for an Estes-Special Bargain."

No one has mentioned Tobey for President, but I hear one network is whipping up a program to be titled "Tobey's Tea Party" featuring interviews with deporting guests.

Surplus Ship Deal Nets Big Profit

Washington—Names of once prominent government officials were reported today to be on an official list of stockholders involved in a surplus ship transaction which netted a 27 million dollar profit. The list, which appears in the official records of the Maritime Commission, is expected to be turned over to the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, as an aftermath of disclosures by Senate "influence" investigators. Sources close to the Commission said the list will include such names as Adm. William F. Identification of the men, both from out of town, were withheld pending further investigation. Police believe the pair to be ex-convicts and that they committed other holdups in the area.

HANGING ON THE LINE

Again the peace of the world seems to be hanging on an imaginary line. U. S. troops are again at the 38th Parallel.

Meanwhile representatives of nations taking an active part in the war have been talking with Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk. A new decision on whether to cross or not to cross is indicated—and apparently it is coming.

In theory General MacArthur is still free, under the resolution adopted by the UN General Assembly last Oct. 7, to disregard the 38th Parallel. His directive is to establish order throughout Korea. But he has said that existing military facts will have to be greatly changed, to the disadvantage of the enemy, before "we can seriously consider conducting major operations north of that geographic line." He has also said he would not "arbitrarily" cross the line if given good political reasons for not crossing it.

The mere fact that the Chinese are apparently withdrawing behind the 38th Parallel is not, however, such a reason. Obviously they cannot be allowed to use it as a refuge where they can rest and refresh and reinforce their tired and battered troops. The necessities of war also mean that General MacArthur cannot be required to reveal to the enemy just what he will do next. He will, then, order the line crossed as occasion requires.

But that does not mean that there will be deep penetrations as part of an all-out effort to end the war. The military situation now posed is a virtual stalemate. General MacArthur certainly does not have the strength to win a decision and neither do the Chinese. Moreover, their stay below the parallel has been at least as costly as was our stay above it last fall.

DISHES IN THE SINK

In an old vaudeville gag the comedian looked at a crowd of women at a matinee performance and declared, "I'll bet there are a lot of dirty dishes in the sink this afternoon." That's what happened in New York and elsewhere, where millions watched the Kefauver hearings over television.

Department stores complained their sales fell off because potential customers stayed home to watch the proceedings. Children, not interested in the main show, objected to having their favorite radio programs canceled.

It is estimated 40,000,000 persons—probably an exaggeration—watched the Kefauver show. Movie magnates are concerned over TV.

Radio, and now television, have brought a plethora of entertainment, available almost around the clock—entertainment of every kind and character, to be had for the mere turning of a dial. But nothing was ever put on the air that attracted the interest created by the Kefauver show. The Senate could help to pay the interest on the national debt if it made the performance a permanent feature and sold television rights to a soap company.

Bristol Turns in Good Record for Safety in '51

made by the council on the basis of the number of cars in use in each community. From this standpoint Bristol was also ahead. Its 1950 record was 1.6 traffic deaths per 10,000 registered cars as against an average of 3.1 for all the cities. The average in the other cities of its size was 1.9 per 10,000 cars.

The year's auto accidents, reports the council, took 35,000 lives, an 11 percent increase over the previous year, when the total was 31,500. The increase occurred principally in the rural areas, where the deaths were up 15 percent.

The overall picture, however, is not one of poorer or more reckless driving, according to the council, which points out that the increase in fatalities was proportionate to the increase in total mileage traveled by cars.

other United Nations troops throughout the day.

Earlier Friday, an American patrol sliced almost up to Parallel 38 but ran into heavy Chinese fire from self-propelled guns just below the artificial dividing line between South and North Korea.

Schanche quoted a spokesman for an American division on the flaming west front as stating at 7 o'clock Friday evening (5 a. m. EST) that he did not yet have details of the Chinese counter-attack north of Uijongbu.

The dispatch said further that only "light" Chinese resistance was met northwest of Uijongbu as the Eighth Army's UN forces spent the day straightening out their lines. Uijongbu is 11 miles due north of Seoul, the recently liberated South Korean capital.

On the mountainous central front, Chinese Communist troops lobbed mortar shells and sprayed machine gun bullets onto the northern outskirts of the Allied-held bastion of Chunchon, seven miles south of the Parallel.

American intelligence officers said the Chinese invaders were reported to have massed 200,000 to 250,000 troops just above the Parallel along a 60-mile line for an anticipated major counter-offensive on the west and central fronts.

this and in foreign countries. The press, the radio, vacationing tourists, and various agencies are doing a good job, but the most effective results that can possibly be attained are the lasting impressions made on the individuals that visit our own country. Over 700 selected persons from Japan alone have been brought to this country to study in our colleges and to observe our methods of industries and ways of life.

It is his opinion that while much has been done along this line of familiarizing citizens of other countries with the people of the United States, nevertheless a most determined effort should be made to increase the number of persons from all nations to come to these shores. They can thus be shown first-hand that the money that flows so freely from the hands of tourists does not grow on trees, but that all must work for it and that there are poor people in America as well as those who can spend money more freely.

"This will bring confidence in the hearts of those people for the United States, and will protect the good qualities of what we are trying to do for them through the Marshall plan and other government agencies. Most colleges now have scholarships for this purpose, and special efforts are being made to pick persons from other countries to bring them here to observe what is happening in our schools. There is a way of life that is worthwhile according to the material things being done, and for the most part a great desire is shown to work with the U. S., and thereby have better than an average chance to gain allegiance."

The meeting was in charge of Nelson Green.

Zoning Laws Need To Be Modernized

"It is as inadvisable to copy another community's zoning ordinance as it is to wear someone else's suit," he said. "Zoning controls the growth of a community and each community has different problems."

Second, Reed pointed out, competent technical advice must be obtained in preparing zoning plans.

He suggested that experts be employed wherever possible to draw up plans because "municipal planning is a specific profession for which special training is needed."

A poorly-drawn zoning ordinance, he emphasized, will create animosity among the community's citizens and will lead to litigation that an acceptable measure could have avoided.

"It is far better not to have any zoning ordinance at all than to have a poor one," he said.

Third, according to Reed, ordinances must be up-to-date.

"Lots of those in effect in the commonwealth are antiquated," he said. Some are desperately in need of revision either by amendment or by replacement.

"A zoning ordinance should be reviewed at least every five years," he said, "and it should be amended to keep up with demands."

"No community is so stable that the regulations that applied 25 years ago are entirely applicable today."

Fourth, said Reed, provisions should be included in an ordinance for off-street parking to relieve the congestion of steadily increasing numbers of automobiles.

"In addition," he said, "we should consider not only protecting residential areas from the encroachment of business but also protecting industrial areas from the encroachment of residences that might increase land values."

Finally, Reed said, zoning ordinances must be comprehensive.

"They must cover the entire area of a municipality," he explained, "and not just one portion while the rest is left unzoned."

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children.

And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should, she decided to do something about it. Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL, and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL is So Effective
An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body. (Adv.)

Helping the Nation get things done for 75 years

This year is the telephone's seventy-fifth and busiest birthday. What began as a line between two rooms in a Boston attic in 1876 has developed, in one lifetime, into a Long Distance network that covers the Nation — and extends to most of the world's telephones. This great system has grown in answer to the needs of a people. And it's a good thing it has. In these threatening times, the Long Distance lines that bind this country together are more vital than ever. For today they are helping to speed production and guard the Nation's security — jobs that call for nothing less than the best telephone service in the world.

the New Dealers did it just to demonstrate how they could use the reciprocal trade agreements to revolutionize and socialize this nation. Another is that the automobile industry got the Roosevelt Administration to sell out the American watch industry as part of a deal to get an open market for American cars in Switzerland.

Still another theory is that in the days when Henry Wallace was a big power in the New Deal, he engineered the sell-out of American watchmakers to Switzerland as a favor to his brother-in-law, who happened to be the Swiss Minister to the United States.

("Mr. Knutson. Do I understand you to say that Mr. Wallace is the brother-in-law of the Swiss Minister to this country?

("Mr. Knutson. Well, I would say that Switzerland is about as well entrenched here as any country could possibly be. I congratulate the Swiss people on their happy situation. I wish I could congratulate the American people on being as happy as the Swiss." Sworn testimony, House Ways and Means Committee, April 30, 1945. The "Mr. Cenerazzo" was Mr. Walter W. Cenerazzo, National President of the American Watch Workers' Union and for years a champion of the principle of tariff protection for the American watch industry.)

Literally millions of watches which once would have been manufactured by some sixty watch concerns in this country, and would have represented a payroll of some 60,000 persons (testimony at 1945 hearings of Ways and Means Committee), have been imported from Switzerland during the past few years — imported either in the finished state, or nearly finished, to be completed at the American plants of Swiss concerns.

This country has today only two watchmaking concerns still struggling to lead an independent economic existence — the Elgin National Watch Company, Elgin, Ill., and the Hamilton Watch Company, Lancaster, Pa. The other of the "big three" which were able to survive the shock of the Swiss trade agreement back in 1935 was the Waltham Watch Company, of Waltham, Mass., whose difficulties trying to keep going, even with an outright government subsidy, trailed across the newspaper pages for the past two years.

The place where the American concerns were thrown for a loss from which it is problematical whether they ever recover is when they patriotically stepped into the war emergency, and started making watch "jewels" and precision instruments as part of our defense program. You see, we had been getting these from Switzerland, in the main; but Hitler (with or without Swiss cooperation) shut off the supply when we began to show signs of getting into the war.

It worked out like this: Our New Deal government promised the American watch-makers to hold back all but a trickle of Swiss watches during the critical period, so as to save the post-war watch market for these American concerns. A quota restriction against Switzerland was set up for this purpose.

But the Swiss workmen, no longer engaged so largely making precision instruments for us, went back to mass-producing watches, and these started being smuggled into this country through our "good neighbors" below the border — Mexico and South America. An unknown number, totalling far in the hundreds of thousands and most likely well into the millions of these smuggled watches, came into this country during and after the war.

Underselling the American product as they did (due to Swiss government subsidies, often at the American taxpayers' expense, and to lower living standards and hence lower wages in Switzerland) these rapidly undermined the position of American watches in the American market. To top off the government's bad faith, the contracts which the government had placed with the American concerns to build up our own home-front "jewel" and precision-instrument source of supply were abruptly cancelled for reasons never explained. (See page 1057, Ways and Means Hearing of 1945.)

The result is that the two American companies which are still trying to do business as independent watchmaking concerns have been fighting an uphill battle since the end of the War, and desperately need tariff protection if they are to continue to survive.

Moreover, we are in precisely the same position as we were back in 1940 with reference to watch "jewels" and precision instruments — we have no foreign source of supply that may not be shut off just at the moment when we need it most, and our own domestic watch-makers, the only source of skilled workmen competent to build up an American source of these essentials, are rapidly being forced out of this line of employment.

And still Miss Porter finds time to weep for the troubles of the Swiss, with not a word for our own!

St. Mary's Hall

BURLINGTON, Mar. 30 — Several exhibitors in the Arts and Crafts Section of the St. Mary's Hall Benefit at the Burlington Armory, April 5, 6 and 7 have offered one of their paintings to be sold at one of the two auctions, being featured at the benefit. Among them are Robert McClellan, head of the New Hope School of Art, who is donating one of his unusual landscapes; Mrs. Wm. T. Krusen of the Columbus-Bordentown Road is contributing a painting of early Burlington showing the old Town Hall, the Market Place and the original Anderson Drug Store; Mrs. Eleanor Sibley Riley, a member of the St. Mary's Hall faculty is giving a small oil painting called "The Backbone of America," showing a charming white house in a typically rural American setting. There are two water colors by Henry Mosle of Conn., entitled "The Village Church" and "Winter in New England." Mr. Mosle is the father of a present student. Another to be auctioned is "The Capture of Chattanooga," painted in 1850 by Professor R. D. T. Travis who lived, years ago, on the Jacksonville Road. It was entered by Mrs. Harry Kidd who now occupies the old Travis Homestead. It is one of a group of paintings Professor Travis was commissioned to make by the army, during the Civil War. The others are now in the Congressional Library in Washington. A needlepoint chair seat the work of Mrs. James D. Brown of Morrisville will also be auctioned. More than a dozen table lamps, complete with shades have been donated, as well as many smaller objects. Donations are coming in daily for the two auctions, the first one following the Card Party on the evening of April 6, and the second one during an intermission of the dance, following the Glee Club Concert on the evening of the 7. Music for the dance will be provided by the Theta Nu 12 piece band of the State College for Teachers at Trenton.

The Washington Crossing Park Commission is loaning for the opening night the very valuable reproduction of the famous Leutze painting of Washington Crossing the Delaware the original of which is in the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York City. This has been made possible through the cooperation of Mrs. J. L. Hutton of Bristol, a member of the Park Commission, serving on the Committee of Arrangements for the official opening of the benefit at 8 o'clock on the evening of April 5.

COOK-OUT

As part of the Girl Scout training course, being held each week for Girl Scout leaders in this district, a "cook-out" was held on Monday evening at the Girl Scout camp, in Andalusia. The group was taught how to build a fire and a one pot meal was prepared under the supervision of Miss Jesse Brittingham, Doylestown, executive director. A biscuit twist was prepared for dessert. Coffee and tea were served to 16.

Youth Week Interest Reaches A New High

An enthusiastic meeting of those interested in Youth Week was held in the Elks Home, last evening, and indications are that the "week" this year will probably strike a new high for interest and success.

The date was definitely set at May 21st to May 26th, both inclusive. Thomas Janes, chairman, presided at the meeting with Horace P. Schmidt serving as secretary. There was a lot of discussion over details of the plans and on how to make the affair outstanding.

Charles Richman, who last year handled the trophy arrangements, reviewed the plans of last year and it was left up to the district leaders to decide as to the prizes.

There is to be a marble contest, roller skating, track and field events, basketball foul shooting contest, talent contest, hobby contest, and poster contest. Entries for the poster contest must be filed by May 1st.

The refreshments, always, a popular feature, this year are to be hot dogs, ice cream and soda.

Every district in Bristol Township was represented last evening, with the exception of Crofton, but this district will be represented in the week.

In the athletic events there will be softball. A schedule will be arranged by the district teams when they are prepared for competition. The concluding affair to climax the week will be the big parade on Saturday, May 26th.

Participants in the events must not be 17 years of age before May 26, 1951.

Here are the district leaders who will start at once to organize the boys and girls in their communities.

First ward, Raymond Tomlinson; second ward, Violet DiNunzio and Joseph Sagolla; third ward, Robert Hughes and Russell Vandegrift; fourth ward, Vincent Fargalli; fifth ward, Anthony DiAngelo; sixth ward, Francis Kryven; Edgely, Marty Fallon; Bristol Terrace and Laurel Bend, Marion Petro; Maple Shade, Walter Crawford; Crofton, Howard Taylor.

Members of the steering committee present last evening were Thomas Janes, Maxwell J. Gordon, Clyde Waterman, Charles Richman, Walter Miller, Abraham Bus-tranah, Stephen Midouhas, Joseph Elbersson, Horace P. Schmidt, James Willson, and Serrill D. Dellefson.

The committee will meet again next Thursday evening in the Elks Home at eight o'clock.

Pastor Addresses The Emilie Woman's Society

EMILIE, Mar. 30 — Plans were made to hold a covered dish supper on April 27th in Emilie Methodist church social room, during a business meeting of the Woman's Society Christian Service held at the home of Mrs. Horace Boos, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Jay Hook, Edgely, president, was in charge. The Rev. Samuel Gaskell, pastor, opened the meeting with prayer, and had charge of the devotional period, in the absence of Mrs. James Mabery, Jr. He gave a short talk on the subject, "Examine Yourself."

Mrs. E. H. Shoemaker read the secretary's report, with Mrs. James S. Douglass reporting the treasury balance. A report was given by the sick committee.

It was decided to extend an invitation to the Crofton W. S. C. S. to visit the group at the April 17th meeting.

"Blood for Korea" day in Bristol was discussed and blanks distributed.

Ten dollars was voted to be given to Red Cross and $5 to the "Spring Mart," to be held in the Deaconess Home, Philadelphia.

The hostess served ice cream, cake and candy to 23. One new member was accepted. The benediction was pronounced by Mrs. Samuel Gaskell.

Sellersville Man Pastry Instructor

housewife learns by trial and error. It is a revelation to discover how, by streamlined methods, so many men can be fed with so little fuss and with so few utensils, when necessity arises. A trip through the school is more than enjoyable, it is highly instructive, even to a reporter who is certainly no cook.

One of the branches is pastry, under which comes, of course, cake. The Army eats cake. It eats good cake. It teaches not only cake baking, but decorating as well.

The decorating of wedding cake comes under the fine arts: It is a real profession. The decorator is an artist. His medium is royal icing rather than oil or water color, or marble or granite. His confections are works of art, and his works of art are confections.

And that brings us right back to Sgt. Carl Borowski, of Sellersville. Recently he turned out a chapel-icing. It stands nearly 27 inches tall and is about 26x24 in other dimensions. It is made of royal icing, without a foundation. That means that the art of engineering enters into the construction, because without a knowledge of struts and balances, the structure would collapse.

The chapel has a belfry tower, and inside the tower is a bell which swings to and fro. There are little birds perched on the roof. Around the chapel is an elaborate fence. There is even a miniature bride and bridegroom emerging from the door of the chapel. And all done with sugar and the patient skilled hand of the Sergeant.

Sergeant Borowski is well known around Sellersville and Souderton and Perkasie. He is a member of Sellersville Loyal Order of Moose. Also, he is much in demand for occasions where fine violin playing is appreciated, for he is by of being something of a virtuoso.

And during World War II he was a cook—that time in the U. S. Navy.

Extend Registration, State College Classes, Morrisville

Registrations for The Pennsylvania State College Class Center at Morrisville high school scheduled originally for March 28, 29 and 30th from 7 to 9 p. m. were extended today to include April 5th and 6th at the same time according to Arthur K. Meyers, area administrative head. Early registrations show a very definite interest in the following courses: pre-foremanship training, inspection and gauging, accounting, engineering, drawing and typing.

Pre-foremanship training covers human relations, safety, time study, job evaluations and personnel techniques. Inspection and gauging combines the teaching of simple, yet essential mathematics, the interpretation of detailed drawings with types of precision measuring instruments. The accounting course is designed for persons with little or no background in accounting and covers transaction analyses, use of specialized journals including the voucher ledger, controlling accounts and subsidiary ledgers; work sheets and financial statements. Engineering drawing will equip persons who have had no previous drawing training with the fundamentals of engineering drawing; while the typing course is designed for beginners and as a refresher course.

These classes are scheduled to start April 12 and continue thereafter on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p. m. for a period of eight weeks.

A person normally has twelve pairs of ribs.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Killed... latest word regarding the Duffy firearms registration bill (House Bill No. 305), which provided for registration of all firearms in Pennsylvania, ballistic tests, etc., is to the effect that it has been killed in committee. This means it will not come up for action at this session of the General Assembly.

Meeting... next Monday, April 2nd, delegates to the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs will meet in Doylestown at S. P. M. Charlie Wehrlich, re-elected president at the last meeting, urges all member clubs to be represented. It is expected that committee appointments for 1951 will be announced at this meeting.

Conservation... since World War II, educators and sportsmen have become increasingly aware of the need to teach youngsters the value and importance of the wise use of our natural resources, as well as the pleasures and benefits derived from hunting and fishing.

A natural product of this awakened consciousness, the Junior Conservation Camp, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and Pennsylvania State College, will be operated this summer for its fourth consecutive year. Beginning June 10, four camp groups will spend 12 days each at the State College Forestry Camp, in northern Huntingdon County. Camp costs will be borne by the sportsmen's clubs that sponsor the boys. The Bucks County Federation will again send two boys from Bucks County.

All of the state conservation agencies and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will join with the camp staff and other specialists in teaching the campers subjects pertaining to the outdoors and natural resources. "Never a dull moment" describes the life enjoyed by the fortunate campers. The boys revel in an excitingly new and busy existence in the roughly comfortable buildings and on the grounds of the forestry camp.

The boys who attend the camp are high school sophomores and juniors. They are usually selected through competitive examination. They are urged to organize junior sportsmen's clubs upon return to their home localities.

Charles W. Stoddard, Jr., Extension Director of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, and his staff direct and supervise the activities of the boys. Stoddard emphasizes the fact that human conservation, too, is an aim and a natural result of the camping periods.

It is the unanimous opinion of those who have visited the Junior Conservation Camp, that the sportsmen, educators, and conservation agencies, interested both in the youth of today and our country's future, could hardly foster a more worthy project.

Hunting licenses... final figures recently released by the Game Commission reveal that a total of 10,551 hunting licenses were issued in Bucks County in 1949. Of that total there were 581 non-resident, 241 to the Armed Forces and 2 to disabled veterans. Our neighboring county of Philadelphia issued 22,642 for the same year.

Sixteen more days... in just a little over two weeks the first major fishing season will open in the Commonwealth when trout become legal on April 15th.

ENLIST IN NAVY

Two Bristol area men were enlisted in the Regular Navy this week according to word received from the Navy Recruiting Office in the Post Office Building in Burlington, N. J. They were Jay Paul Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weistling L. Snyder, of 26 Woodside avenue, Edgely, and Charles Lawrence Holderried, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Holderried, of 520 Sycamore avenue, Croydon. Both boys were sent to the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., to receive their basic training. Upon completion of their basic training, they will be assigned to one of the various units of the fleet or to a Naval Trade School for advanced technical training.

SORENSEN IN TRAINING

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. — Marine Private First Class William Sorenson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sorenson Sr., 931 Excelsior ave., Croydon, Pa., recently commenced training here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot by receiving a promotion to his present rank. He also won the coveted Marksman Medal when he fired 202 of a possible 250 points with the Garand rifle.

MLKVY SHOCKED OVER BASKETBALL SCANDAL, HE SAYS

"It was a terrible shock to me," were the words used by William "Bill" Mikvy, All-American player of Temple University, in talking of the college basketball scandal that rocked the nation.

"I was very disappointed in the boys," Mikvy told a Courier representative following the banquet of the P. I. A. A. basketball officials last night. "I played against fourteen of the seventeen players involved in the scandal, so you must know how I felt when the news broke that they had received bribes for throwing games or 'cutting' the scores."

"However, I will say that in playing against me, there was never any signs of game-throwing or anything that didn't look right. However, college basketball has received a terrible blow."

The Temple University star led the nation in scoring during the past season. He averaged 29.2 points per game and scored 700 points in 25 games. He still has another year of college basketball and will talk basketball all night but shies away from the scandal talk.

Mikvy is a dental student at Temple and upon completion of his course expects to open a dental office in his home town of Palmerton. He graduated from Palmerton High where he was a four-letter man in his senior year.

He attributes his success on the court to the help he received from his sister, Lillian, who taught him the art of scoring in their backyard lullaby. At the present time, is a star on the girls' basketball team at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. A brother, John, plays semi-pro ball with Palmerton while an 11-year-old brother, Bobby, is a member of the midjet league at Palmerton.

He feels certain that Temple University will have a fine team next season as along with the six foot, five Mikvy, the entire varsity team will be back.

The final question asked Mikvy was about the oddity in the spelling of his name. He smiled and said: "Everytime I am interviewed, I am asked that question. It is just a characteristic of a Czechoslovakian name. My parents took it over with them. It is pronounced as if it had a vowel in it, but the correct spelling is Mikvy."

Vanilla, in its natural states, is a long green bean.

The Record That Means the Most to You!

Nash Rambler

SETS ALL-TIME RECORD

IN 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

Here is proof positive that the Nash Rambler is the most economical full-size car on the road... official proof that you can expect to go farther on every gallon of gas in a Rambler Airflyte.

For in America's blue-ribbon stock car event—the 1951 Mobilgas Economy Run from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon—the Rambler smashed all previous records for the Run... covered the 840.05 miles averaging 31.05 miles per gallon! That's the kind of thrifty performance you've been looking for.

In setting this all-time record, the Rambler carried 4 passengers with driver, averaging over 41 miles an hour. The course covered all types of terrain—deserts, mountains, city and highway driving... with snow, rain and head winds. Yet never before had any car in this event gone so far on so little gasoline!

Every Nash Airflyte entrant—Statesman, Ambassador and Rambler—was a trophy winner in its class. Real evidence that Nash is your best bet for the years ahead!
